PARISH BIBLE STUDY GROUPS

Many Catholics want to read the Bible but get bogged down by the long stretches that seem not to make sense or get lost among the sea of Old Testament names and places. Unlocking the Mystery of the Bible, an eight-part Bible study, helps you uncover the story woven throughout Scripture, so you can get the “big picture” of the Bible and understand what it’s all about. Aided by a unique color-coded Bible Timeline. Chart that arranges the key people, places, and events of the Bible in chronological order, Unlocking the Mystery of the Bible will help you pick up the Bible with confidence and understand how you fit into God’s plan.

BLESSING OF THROATS

FEAST OF ST. BLAISE

WED., FEBRUARY 3, 9 AM AT MORNING MASS

By Fr. Steve Grunow (Word on Fire Blog)

On Wednesday, the Church remembers the life and witness of Saint Blaise, a 3rd century Armenian bishop who endured terrifying torments and surrendered his life rather than repudiate his profession of Faith.

Much of the life of Saint Blaise is history that has passed into legend, but even these legendary accounts offer spiritual insight.

Saint Blaise has been invoked for centuries as a specialist in diseases of the throat. The origin of this practice might be in the story of a child brought to the saint who was either choking or suffering from some other malady of the throat. Saint Blaise blessed the boy and he was restored to health.

The practice of blessing throats on the Feast of Saint Blaise is a commemoration of this miracle; that crossed candles are often used to impart this blessing might also be a recollection of the kindness of the woman who gave candles to the saint as he languished in prison.

Saint Blaise was an extraordinarily popular saint during the Middle Ages in Europe. Presentations of his miraculous and mighty deeds were commonly represented in art and sculpture, and he was included in a listing of saints called the Fourteen Holy Helpers (or Auxiliary Saints), holy men and women who could be counted on as intercessors for all manner of maladies from madness to travelers in distress. During times in which a sore throat could be a signal of an impending epidemic or an early death, the faithful were all too happy to accept the help of a heavenly specialist in such matters like Saint Blaise.

THE CATHOLIC FAITH AND MODERN SCIENCE: WITH DR. STEPHEN BARR

FIVE TUESDAYS AT 7:00 – 8:30 PM
FEBRUARY 2 TO MARCH 2

Are you a teenager or adult who has always wondered if faith and science are at odds with each other? How is a Christian to understand evolution, the Galileo controversy, the New Atheism, consciousness, and Adam and Eve? The Archdiocesan Online School of Pastoral Ministry offers a five-part live webinar class taught by the President of the Society of Catholic Scientists, Dr. Stephen Barr. In these lectures Prof. Barr will show that the widespread idea that faith and science are opposed to each other is based on misconceptions about the history of science, about Catholic teaching, and about what science has actually discovered. He will discuss how fundamental Catholic beliefs dovetail with the basic assumptions of science; how the Catholic Church powerfully contributed to the founding and development of science; and the creation of the universe from the viewpoint of both Catholic theology and modern cosmology. Learn how the doctrine of the human "spiritual soul" does not conflict with modern science, and how the idea of biological evolution is consistent with a Christian conception of the universe. For complete information and to register, visit sfarch.org/science.

CATHOLIC COSMOLOGIES WITH BRO. GUY CONSOLMAGNO, PRESIDENT OF THE VATICAN OBSERVATORY

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 2021, 10 AM, ZOOM

From angels and demons to photons and quarks, we've always been curious about how the universe works. But every cosmology, from materialism to Catholicism, is based on assuming things that we may not even realize we are assuming: things we take on faith. And so our cosmologies can be as fun and quirky as the people who invented them! We'll look into the stories behind how St. Paul, St. Augustine, Galileo and Kepler and Newton, and on up to Stephen Hawking, have all cast their own peculiar take on the big questions of the universe.

EXPLORING THE ROOTS AND MEANING OF RELIGIOUS FEAR: TRUSTING IN A WISE, PRODIGAL, AND FULLY EMPATHETIC GOD WITH FR. RON ROLHEISER

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2021, 10 AM, ZOOM

Most of us live with too many fears in our lives. And all of us live with religious fears, fears about God, about life, and about our eternal destiny. What kind of fear is healthy in our lives and what kind is unhealthy? From where do our religious fears originate? How do we tell healthy fears from unhealthy ones? This retreat will examine the origins and the complexities of religious fear and, after giving fear its proper dues, will examine some biblical principles which invite us to live with less fear.

CALLED TO PROTECT LAKES AND MIGRANTS

A March 2018 article in National Geographic magazine (March 2018) titled “Drying Lakes” focuses on the human mismanagement of irrigation as well as the effects of climate change on lakes all over the world. What impacted me most was the muted (rarely heard) voices between the lines of the “subsistence hunters and fishermen” who, more and more, are becoming “climate migrants”. The Pulitzer Prize winning author, Kenneth Weiss, defines “climate migrants” as people who relocate because they “have been uprooted from their homes by climate-related environmental disruptions... storms, floods, wildfires, extreme temperatures, and other weather-related disasters.” He quotes from the Norwegian Refugee Council’s Internal Displacement Monitoring Centre that climate migrants out-number people fleeing conflict and violence by several million each year and have done so for “decades”. The article mentions several lakes in Africa, Iran, Panama, Venezuela, Bolivia, and the U.S.: Lake Chad, Lake Urmia, Gatun Lake, the Guri Dam, Lake Poopó, and Utah’s Great Salt Lake (respectively).

The article mainly focuses on the events and people surrounding Lake Poopó, (above) the second largest lake in Bolivia, where water has evaporated in part due to rising temperatures in the area. The lake also suffered from “human mismanagement” because too much water was drained away from the lake for irrigation and/or other uses. Worse yet, in nearby Chile, the harvesting of quinoa in early spring leaves behind exposed soil that is picked up by winds from the Atacama Desert. That soil lands in Lake Poopó, accumulating sediment which is filling the lake. The indigenous Urus who live here weave reeds from the lake, to make hats, keychains, earrings, and handicrafts, living off the fish and fowl that inhabit the lake. With the recent dessication of the lake and loss of these resources, many have had to move away.

Many of the lakes discussed in this article have been polluted by careless human activities. Even the rising temperatures causing evaporation are caused by human activities that are self-serving and “blind” to the needs of nature. The fish, birds, animals, and indigenous peoples who depend on these lakes are voiceless and vulnerable. There is no one (and, in the case of animals, no way) to hold a loudspeaker or megaphone up to their voices. They need people who listen to, respect, and heed science. The solutions will be found through research, heightened sensitivity, deeper thought, continuous, prayer, and empathetic advocacy. It will take a “joining of hands” of people who care. If this isn’t a “calling”... I don’t know what is.

VISION STATEMENT St. Raymond Parish is a family. As disciples of Jesus, we are “children of God” and “brothers and sisters in Christ.” Jesus himself says, “Whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother, and sister, and mother” (Matthew 12:50). We welcome all to belong to our Catholic family and to inherit with us in Christ the mission to preach the Gospel as we pray-serve-socialize in His Name.

MISSION STATEMENT St. Raymond Parish is a community united by our Catholic Faith as disciples of Jesus Christ. We seek communion with God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit through ongoing personal and communal conversion to Christ and a deeper commitment to the mission Jesus gives each of us to preach the Gospel. The sacred scriptures and sacraments of the Church sustain us. We dedicate ourselves to Truth and strive to grow in love of God and neighbor as we pray-serve-socialize together, and work by grace to build up in one another and share freely with others the abundance of magnificent gifts God has given.
